Projects

March 2022 - ShoppingKaro Website Using MERN Stack

I developed an E-commerce website using MERN stack and payment integration. The website allows users to create accounts, browse products, add items to their shopping cart, and complete transactions with secure payment gateways. It is built using React.js, Node.js, and MongoDB, and deployed on cloud services for seamless accessibility.

June 2021 - TODO-List Using ReactJS

I designed and developed a Todo List web application using React.js. Users can add tasks and delete them. The user interface is responsive and interactive. This project showcases my proficiency in React.js and my ability to create simple yet functional web applications.
